Contest Case of Kimball vs. Veasey.The office of The Herald for Las Cruces is in the Robinson Drug Store. The Quality. This firm will deliver The Herald each night at the regular rate of 60 cents month.Las Cruces, N. M., Jan. 19.—The demand for agricultural land in the lower Mimbres valley, and the large number of people willing to live in the vicinity of Columbus and Honda, has caused the El Paso & Southwestern railroad to establish the station on Continental in section 2, township 23 south, of range 14 west. This station will be about midway between Columbus and Honda, and is in the center of a large stretch of unsurveyed land, which is already being located by settlers who are looking for the survey of these townships in the near future.The final decision in the case of Kimball vs. Veasey has cancelled the entries made by Mr. Veasey and his wife under the desert land law for lands in the Mimbres valley. These entries were contested by Mr. Kimball after the claimants had made proof before the United States commissioner alleging the full expenditure as required by law.In the affidavit of contest it was charged that the claimants did not expend the amount of money claimed by them to have been spent and that the improvements on the ground were not such as have been testified to in the various annual proofs.At a hearing held before the United States land office at Las Cruces no defence was made by the claimant as to the various allegations in the case, and decision was rendered in favor of the contestant, by both the local office as well as by the general land office.Dr. Oden, of Shiloh colony, took the afternoon train for El Paso.

for by foot out on the mesa east of town, and water is encountered, which from analysis at the college is very pure. The well will be sunk further down to obtain a better flow as the deeper it is driven the better the water.W. J. Martin, formerly in the grocery business here, was hurt in a railroad wreck near Eagle Pass, Tex. He was enroute east to his home in Arkansas and while not seriously injured was sent to a hospital in

IS BEING HELD UPMulti-Millinaire Must Wait For His $28.70 For Testifying.Washington, D. C., Jan. 19.—Andrew Carnegie, multi-millinaire, is having trouble collecting from the government $28.70 in witness fees for his recent testimony before the house steel trust committee. He told the committee when testifying that he was honored by its invitation to appear, that he would frame in gold his subpoena and expense vouchers and keep them forever.Later, however, Mr. Carnegie apparently changed his mind, for on January 17 he signed a certificate of non-appearance and it was received today by Jerry South, chief clerk of the house.It calls for 45¢ miles of travel at five cents a mile (129.75 for three days' witness fees at $1 a day ($3). The notary in New York who witnessed the voucher for Mr. Carnegie failed to affix his seal until this detail is remediated will clerk South gave up the money.Omnibus Bill Favored.
The house committee on public buildings and grounds today decided to report an omnibus public building bill, carrying $15,000,000. Democratic lead.Stage Beauty Tells Secrets of Youth(Theatre Review in The Herald.)
"I have often wondered at Jane Clayton's youthful beauty. In a burst of confidence she told me her complexion was due to a lotion which she makes by dissolving a small original package of makelone in a half-pint of witch hazel. Massaging with this has kept her skin clear and satiny and preserved its girlish bloom."Her long, wavy and lustrous locks are due to dry shampooing. She says she never has time to wash her head and would not if she could, because wet shampoo makes the hair dull and lifeless. A dry shampoo leaves the hair soft and fluffy. To make the dry shampoo, she puts a cupful of corn meal in a fruit jar and mixes with it the contents of a small original package of therox. It brushes out easily and takes all dirt with it.With a jar of Mother's Salve to cure sore throat and colds and prevent catarrh, this actress travels forty-eight weeks in the year, always looking like pink of perfection, and sings at every performance.—Ad.BANKS MUST KEEP UP THE RESERVESThose Falling Below the Legal Limit Will Be ReportedWashington, D. C., Jan. 19.—Controller of the currency Murray today took steps to compel all national banks of the country to maintain their legal reserves.
The law regulating the reserves, the most drastic in the national bank act, never has been strictly enforced, it is said.The national examiners now will report all banks whose reserves are continually below the legal limit. Under the statute the controller is authorized to appoint a receiver for any bank that fails to hold its legal reserve, or to call on the attorney general to revoke the charter.

May Be Joint Inquiry.

It was indicated today that the proposed inquiry into the Atlantic, Pacific and Southern shipping combines instigated by representative Humphrey, of Washington, in the house, would be made a joint congressional investigation, as president Taft had expressed the opinion that the treaty relations of the United States with other nations might be involved.

introduced a bill in the house for the construction of irrigation work for im-

Dr. Parkhurst Discusses

International Disputes and World PeaceQualifications
Needed to Fill Good PositionsNo international dispute will ever be referred to a court of arbitration that will not result to the disappointment of one or other of the two nations in controversy, and Mr.
Roosevelt's opposition to the president's scheme lies in the fact that he is afraid that under it some matter will be submitted to arbitration the issue of which will be adverse to American interests.He is more concerned that the United States should have its own way in matters of international disagreement than that steps should be taken promotive of the world's pacification.While as a man he is not individually selfish, as a citizen he is nationally selfish, and is more willing that nations should go on bawling each other to pieces than that we should fail of getting all that we may feel belongs to us, but which a carefully and im-partially constituted court of inquiry may consider does not properly belong to us at all.He has a large heart, but it is confined within the limits of his own country. Patriotism is always commendable, but there is something better even than that, viz., the disposition to hold particular interests in subordination to the general good-being.The ideal world-peace except so far as the more advanced nations assent to a policy of mutual international surrender.Pagnas More Christian Than Christians The whole effect of Mr. Roosevelt's attitude and intemperance language is to postpone on our part the adoption of such policy, a policy that England and France have already agreed to.It is an excellent thing to pray "Thy kingdom come," but like most prayers the answer to it will not come except as we remove the obstacles that are in the way of its coming.It does not appear that the colonel's peace-impulse is strong enough to make him care very much whether the popular peace-tendency is promoted or checked. He is a fighter and believes in fighting as a means of individual and national discipline, and makes no progress of civilization dependent upon navies.His views, if correctly reported, coincide with those of our own staff officer, Gen. von der Goltz, who says that "Wherever human beings existIF YOU APPROVE OF THE PURPOSE OF THE CITIZENS' LEAGUE, mean that they cannot in a satisfactory way turn their backs on "Dawning Another Way of Spelling 'Midnight Oil'."It is an old saying that there is always room at the top. The upper story, and indeed, the stories that lie above what nearer the ground floor, are never crowded, or at least rarely so.The early chapters in the history of any man, who afterward becomes eminent in his line of service, tell the story of the continued efforts and weary hours expended in getting himself qualified for that service."Genius" is another way for spelling "midnight oil."And if additional evidence were needed to bolster up the assertion that a girl's best letter of recommendation is the good opinion of a man, let us look at the lives of some of the great peoples and cream civilization, those boosters for beauty will tell you that it is a common saying with business men that the clerk in a department around the office to look at just as they would like to have a pretty girl in their office.Furthermore, the advocates of beautiful girls would ask you to explain why, if good looks aren't an asset in business as well as in society,

even a middle aged woman holding down a good job?Surely, fat, grizzled women, or old skinny ones, have just as much opportunity of earning money as young, slim ones, but the woman who has lost her looks and figure would ask you to explain why, if good looks aren't an as-
down a good job?Nor does this indicate that all employers are fools. It is a tacit recognition of the fact that youth and beauty are the most valuable things in the world and that we all like to surround ourselves with them when we can. It's just more inspiring to have a fresh, pretty face smiling at you, than to have a faded one, or a counter than it is to look upon a tired, homely, old face, and that's why sweet-and-twenty gets the job.It appears, however, that there is another side to the question. The points of view of good looks being a help in business to a girl, there is such a thing as being so good looking that it is a hindrance, and I am in receipt of a letter from a young woman who says that she is a superabundance of the fatal gift of beauty it is a regular trouble.She writes: "I have been seeking a position for some time without any satisfactory results, because in every business office in which I apply for a position I am told that I am entirely too good looking to have around. Will you please advise me what to do under the circumstances?"Very Sad.
Isn't this sad? Alas, poor girl, how my heart goes out to her, and how gladly I would across her with my three-quarters, or all of this burden of pulebriety that she finds stands in the way of her success. In the foolish way that nature has things, this is impossible, and as this too beautiful creature can't divide up her surplus good looks with those of us who are short of 'em, the only thing left is to suggest to her to sort of hide her light under a bushel, as it were.Perhaps she might dim her radiance, so that it would cease to dazzle mankind and be safe to have around an office if she would comb her hair in the present unbecoming mode, which is guaranteed to turn a spotlight on a woman's profile and bring out every defect in it. Or she might leave her powder rag at home, and permit her nose to get red and shiny, or she might even go to the expense of wearing bunchy frocks that would make her look fat and frowny, instead of lithe and slim. It's hard enough to knock 50 percent off of your appearance with your clothes, and if this Venus will
